THE CITY'S INSTITUTIONS.

REPORT OF THE VISITING COMMITTEE.

THE DEPARTMENT OF CHARITIES AND COR-RECTION CROWDED-MANY IMPROVE-MENTS SUGGESTED.

The New-York County Visiting Committee for Belle-rue Hospital and Other Public Institutions, has com-pleted its twentieth annual report to the State Chari-ties Aid Association. The report is a long one, and ties Aid Association. The report is a long one, and discusses in a thorough manner the condition of and changes in the city's various institutions. It shows that on October 1, 1802, there were 15,937 persons in the Department of Charities and Correction, consisting of 1.727 officers and employes, 13,140 inmates, and 1,070 unpaid helpers. This is an increase of 253 in the inmates and of 144 in the employes, and a dethe diff prisons there were 1,538 inmates, leaving 1,602 in the other institutions. The report refers to the appointment of Elbridge T. Gerry, Franklin 2,500, Oscar S. Straus, E. P. Barker and William 2,500, Oscar S. Straus, E. P. Barker and William 1,500, oscar S. Straus, E. P. The number of insane persons in the four city asylums on October 1, 1892, was 5,767—an increase of 377 (179 men, 198 women) since October 1, 1891. The present capacity of the four asylums is given as 4,313, an increase of 183 since last year; that is, the new room for one fourth of the patients. there is really no room for one fourth of the patients, and the patients have increased more than twice as fast as the accommodations. A MAGAZINE WRITER CORRECTED.

Gettysburg, Penn., Jan. 30 (Special).-In the February "Atlantic Monthly," S. R. Elliott in an article on "The Courage of a Soldier," says on page 247 "that although at Gettysburg some 5,000 New York-ers perished, the only monument erected to the New-York soldiers is dedicated to a militia regiment that never fired a shot." This is an unjust reflection on New-York State, and shows dense ignorance of the Gettysburg buttleffeld on the writer's part. New-York has at least ninety monuments erected to her deed on this field. The cost of them ranges from $2,000 to $15,000 each, and they are the finest here. Besides the regimental monuments, the State has creded a large monument in the National Cemetary which cost $50,000. New-York has spent for monuments at Gettsyburg not far from $500,000.

READY TO REOPEN THE WHITE HOUSE.

Washington, Jan. 30.-Inspectors of the Health Office have been engaged for several days past in fumigating that portion of the White House recently occupied by the President's grandentia, Marthena on, during her illness with scarlet fever, and also the apartments occupied by her mother, Mrs sell Harrison, who was ner constant companion throughout her sickness and convaiescence. The family observed to the letter the sanitary precautions fixed by law, and made no effort whatever to obtain the least relaxation. Mrs. Harrison and her daughined in quarantine for the ful! period of thirty days, and did not attempt to leave the house until assured to the health authorities that no danger to any one could possibly result therefrom. The White House, which has been closed to the public since December 24, will be reopened to morrow.

THE DRAMA.

"GLEN-DA-LOUGH."

An Irish drama, entitled "Glen-da-Lough," was presented last night at the Fourteenth Street Theatre for the first time. Mr. J. K. Murray acted the chief part, and he was aided by a theatrical company that has been organized by Mr. W. H. Powers. The piece is romantic and sentimental. It has much of the flavor that has come to be recognized as belonging in general to melodrama dealing with the Irish peasantry. These plays, if they are reasonably good, draw a numerous class of theatre-goers with certainty, and are commonly popular without pretentionsness. The present example is one of those which are reasonably good. It pleases the eye and the Imagination, and its purpose and effect are quite harmiess. It is also competently acted. Mr. Murray is pleasing in presence and earnest in effort. He is also a good singer, and his part was interspersed with several songs which and his part was interspersed with several songs which were much appreciated. Other actors in the cast were Charles A. Smiley, W. H. Power, Jr., E. L. Walton, Samuel Morton, Charles Kaufman, John P. Barrett, James O'Menra, Miss Margaret McDonald, Miss Adelaide Cashman, Miss Nellie Strickland, Miss Kate Morton, Miss Helle Strickland, Miss Kate Morton, Miss Helle Delwood. The play was invested with a considerable amount of good scenery.

STAR THEATRE-MR. CRANE.

Mr. Crane was welcomed last night by a joyful multitude in the Star Theatre, where he began an engagement which no doubt will prosper-presenting "On Probation," by Brander Matthews and G. II. Jessep. Beneficial changes have been made in that dition of Bellevne Hospital, but the alcoholic wards | play since it was presented here last season. Mr. Crane's were found to be much crowded last winter. The report says: "In one day, in November, 1801, forty-six men were admitted, and in December thirty-nine men were found there, of whom eleven were confined to bed changes, as well as the play, though several of the but five cells for men, with three beds in each; the actors now present the same parts as when "On women's side, though not quite so badly crowded, was Probation" was first seen here. The characters of while there were 163 patients admitted to the Emergency Hospital during the year ended October 1, and 150 births, there was not a single death among 1, and William Herbert was amusing as a villatious watter. Miss Hatile Russell noted and talked, as she commonly does, with a gay exuberance and a fine breezi ness that were sltogether refreshing to her heavers. Miss Anne O'Nelil has also long been welcome to New-York audiences, and she showed again that she had lost none of her right to the welcome that she Miss O'Nelli, Miss Amy Bushy and Miss enjoyed. Many recommendations are made for improvements in the institutions on Blackwell's, Ward's, Randall's and Hart's Islands, and a general increase in immates is noted. To the practice of transferring from the Workhouse to the Almshouse all persons too old or feetly to work is ascribed the overcrowding in the Almshouse. Gladys Walls are as attractive a group as almost

THE SPAN OF LIFE.

Asylom is severely criticised. The report says:

"The crowding of this asylom grew gradually worse through last winter and spring. On October 28, 1891, there were 1.782 patients, 927 of whom were in the ten rickety wooden pavillons, the capacity of which (were they fit to be occupied at all) is not more than 600. In the two basement wards, each of thirty-one rooms, there were staty-nine and seventy-six beds respectively, and the patients of these wards had no day rooms but the dark passage between the bedrooms. On April 2, a visitor found 1.895 patients in one ward; seventeen beds were placed in the hall. On May 1 there were 1.00 the seventeen beds were placed in the hall. DOCKSTADER'S MINSTRELS.

The entertainment furnished in the Columbus Thentre last night was provided by Dockstader's minstrels. Mr. Dockstader has not been seen by period, and many of them who were present last night welcomed him most heartily and enjoyed the performance offered to them to the full extent of its value. The company has many clever entertainers

PARK THEATRE-" THE OUTSIDER."

An English drama relative to the racetrack, called "The Outsider," was presented last night, for the first time in America, at the Park Theatre. This is a case of those "real tubs" that were so much admired by Mr. Crummies. Several actual horses were intro-duced, and several actual jockeys mounted them and rode. "Formosa" and "The Flying Send" were pre-cursors of "The Outsider," which, however, was far inferior to either of those plays. But it served to gratify the large audience in the Park Theatre; which, in great part, was made up of the devotees of whiter racing. Indeed, it seemed that the betting ring at Guttenburg had emptied itself into this theatre. The chief feature of the piece was a conspiracy to drug a racehorse, which had been heavily backed to win the nost celebrated steeplechase in the world, the Grand National at Aintree. A wicked nobleman, whose rascality was of the unlimited, old-fashioned sort, principal figure in this conspiracy, while was the principal figure in this conspiracy, while a Hebrew villain, short of stature, broad of mouth and also of the genuine old-fashioned kind, was his most active agent. Robbery and murder entered into the plot, and melodramatic excitement was plentiful. Two of the scenes were so effectively arranged as greatly to please the spectators. One of these in the stable in which the effort was made to drug horse. The other represented the course at Aintree, in which the stage was crowded with people, and various incidents, which are familiar on English race-courses, took The race itself resembled a real centest ufficiently to provoke much enthusiasm and applause, and the play is likely to succeed among the people who are not satisfied with seeing thoroughbred animals careering over racetracks in the day-time, but also careering over racetracks in the day-time, but also desire to watch horses and Jockeys on the stage. Certainly in one respect the minds race of had evening presented a refreshing novely to the daily patrons of Guttenburg and the frequenters of the city pool rooms. There was no chicanery about the contest on the stage, and all the spectators had a run for their money, as the racing phrase goes.

"The Outsider" was written by Forbes Dawson, and was played by Charles Barton's company.

NEW VARIETY PROGRAMMES.

The most important new attraction at Tony Pastor's Theatre last night was John and James Russell, whose elever impersonations of Irish servant girls have been seen with much enjoyment from time to time in the last few sensors. They are among the best variety attractions lew sensone. They are among the best variety attractions now before the public. J. W. Kelly, however, loses nothing by comparison, and no rivalry can make him less a popular favorite. Mile. Paquerette is adding to her fame, and Miss Vesta Victoria is maintaining hers. Others on the programme are Tony Pastor, Lane and Verona, the Marvels, Lillie Western and Jean Lewis, with his reick mule.

A new play, by R. B. Vallentine and J. G. Wisen, titled "Fitznoodie," will be presented at Paimer's leater this afternoon for the benefit of the Church Hosel and Dispensary. The parts will be played by J. W. 1901. Bruce McRae, W. C. Wheeler, Charles W. Butler. Solomen, Leonora Bellini, Victoria Walters and Charles R. ANOTHER RAPID TRANSIT ACT.

ASSEMBLYMAN FARQUHAR SAID TO HAVE IT IN CHARGE.

GOVERNOR FLOWER'S BILL FOR A DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Alliany, Jan. 30.-It is reported to night that Astemilyman Farquhar, of New-York, will arrive here to morrow, bringing with him a bill providing for the construction of an underground rapid-transit road in New-York City, either by the city or by a corporation added by the city's money. Mr. Farquhar has been consulting with the members of the New-York Real Estate Exchange on rapid transit, and probably the measure he will bring will have their support.

Mr. Farquhar, as a member of Tammany Hall, however, will have to show clearly that he is acting in good faith in this matter with the people w.York. He cannot safely take possession of a bill intended to give New York actual rapid transit and then kill it by neglect. It would appear that the leaders of Tammany Hall are Recally desirons of and aiding the elevated railroads to extend their lines. for it is stated that Senator Plunklit intends to introduce a bill amending the Rapid Transit act of 1801 by a provision authorizing the commission, by a majority vote, to legalize the extension of present lines. As the law now stands, the unanimous con-sent of the members of the commission is necessary for the extension of the elevated lines. Lieutenant-Governor Sheeban has been in Buffalo three days, and now comes the statement from senator Endres of that city that an act will soon be introduced which will be an imitation of the Farquiar inspection act of New York, and which will put it into the power of the Board of Police of Burido to appoint two Democrats and only one Republican as inspectors of election. This would enable Mr. Shechan to "count out" the Republican veters of Buildlo, as Richard Croker now has the power through his Democratic inspectors to count out the Republican voters of New-York. This measure will be one of a series of acts by which the Croker-Sheehan-Murphy-Hill-Flower cabal in the Democratic party intend not only to count out the Republican voters of the State but the Cleveland Democrats as well. The uniform Personal Registra tion act is a measure with a similar motive. Governor Flower had Assemblyman Hilton, of Al bany County, who is a member of the State Agri-cultural Society, introduce his bill to night creating a State Department of Agriculture. This department, under the bill, for five years to come will have two bareaus; one in charge of the agricultural interests of the State and the other of the forests. The agricultural interests will be under the charge of the Dairy Commissioner, while a new Board of Forest Commissioners, consisting of five members, will have charge of the forests. Governor Flower hopes that the new Commissioners will at alight expense the new commissioners and a state have bring under the control of the state in the Adirendack Park sine 600,000 acres of woods land owned by sportsmen's cluts and private individuals. The State already owns 500,000 acres with in the Park. Thus 1,100,000 acres of the 2,740,000 within the park would come neder the control of the State. The Firest Commissioners will receive author by to contract with the owners of land situated with in the bounds of the park that such lands may become part of the park fit con ideration of their exemption from inxaiten for State purposes, which contract shall contain a provision that the owners of such removing any of the timber therespon less that twelve inches in diameter. The Commissioners will also have power to sell the unitured standing timber, the downed timber and the timber injured by blight or tre on any of the state forest tands; provided, however, that no standing timber shall be sold which shall measure twelve inches or less in diameter at least three feet from the ground. All proceeds from such sules shall be turned over to the State treasurer by whom they shall be placed to the credit of the trensury.

Concerning the Dairy Commissioner's work in the appointed and qualified. The Commissioner of Agri culture shall be appointed by the tinvernor by and or office shall be three years. He shall be paid an annual salary of $5,000, and his necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of his official duties. The experts, chemist, agent and counsel comploved by him shall have full access to all places of knoiness, for lories, farms and buildings used in the manufacture. sale or transportation within this State of any dary products or any imitation thereof, or of any article or product with respect to which any authority is conferred upon such Commissioner. The Commissione of Agriculture may appoint and employ not more than five expert butter and cheese makers, who shall, un-der his direction, examine and in-pect butter and der his direction, examine and inspect butter and cheese factories and attend agricultural fairs, societies and meetings designated by the Commissioner, to import thereat information as to the best and most approved methods of making latter and cheese and improving the quality thereof."

The act further deals with the care and feed of cows, prohibits the sale of adulterated milk, pio vides regulations for the sanbary care of butter and cheese factories, and says that milk cause must be branded with the name of the counts where the milks was produced, if sold outside its limits. The Commissioner of Archeulture will be empowered to arrest sellers of adulterated vinegar. He also will be empowered to use his authority to stamp infections the cases among cattle, to destroy fruit trees infected with the "yellows," and to destroy beclives infected by diseased bees. The Commissioner of Agricultural station at Geneva, and may appoint its director; to have control of the New-York Agricultural Station at Geneva, and may appoint its director; to have control of the State Weather Bureau, and of the Agricultural viperiment Station at Cornell University, and of all other departments of the State government related to agriculture.

other departments of the State government related to agriculture.

Senatus McCarren introduced a bill authorizing may company incorporated for the purpose of constructing and maintaining a bridge or baidges over any river, bay, arm of the sea or other body of water connecting any city in the state of New-York containing more than 1,000,000 inhabitants with any other city in said State, to lay tracks and operate a railway apon said bridge or bridges.

Senator Plankitt introduced a bill to-night exempting from taxation the money bequeathed to the Metropolitan Museum of Art by the late Catherine Lorillard Welfe.

Albany, Jan. 30.-Governor Flower to day signed the bill appropriating $700,000 for continuing work apon the Capitol Building. In a memorandum filed with the bill the Governor says: "In approving a larger appropriation last year I quoted the estimate of the Commissioner of the Capitol that the total amount needed for the completion of the structure was then $2,251,025 32, and that by the expenditure of $800,000 that year, $700,000 this year and the remainder, $750,000, next year, the Capitol would finally completed. I stated then that in my judgment a proper regard for economy requires the speedy completion of the building and in line with but policy I cheerfully approve this additional appropriation. The experience of the year just ended shows that a large appropriation can be expended to better advantage than a succession of small ap-propriations and the advance in the work made under last year's appropriation gives assurance that the estimate of the Compassioner of the Capitol will cover the total cost of completing the structure."

SIX MORE CLEVELAND MEN LOSE THEIR PLACES. Albany, Jan. 30 (Special).-War broke out once more to-day between the Cleveland and anti-Cleveland Democrats of Alkany County, Michael Delehanty father-in-law of Senator-elect Edward Murphy, jr. and Superintendent of the Pathic Buildings, dismissed tive orderlies living in Albany County who were ap-pointed through the influence of D. Caty Herrich and James H. Manning, the Cleveland leaders here. over, apparently to indicate that he intended this as an act of hostility to President-elect Cleveland's friends. Mr. Delehanty also dismissed Patrick Fox, a watch man, the last appointee Smith M. Weed, another Cleve land leader, had in the Capitol. There is evidently a good deal of harmony of feeling just now in the Demo-ratic party, but it looks to outsiders as though the anti-Cleveland Democrats were assailing the Cleveland Democrats with considerable ferocity, auparently to weaken them in this State.

TO BURY PART OF THE OLD LEAD TRUST

THE NATIONAL LEAD AND OIL COMPANY DIS SOLVES-AN EXPLANATION BY

ELIHU ROOT. Justice Landon in the Kings County Supreme Court vesteriay appointed Reginald P. Rowe receiver of the National Land and Oil Company, under proceedings taken for the voluntary dissolution of the company. The company is one of the corporations absorbed by the National Lead Company of New Jersey, the suc coses of the National Lead Trust, of which it was a constituent part. The petition for dissolution was signed by Reginald P. Rowe, the vice-president; W P. Thompson, B. C. Webster, J. G. Stecken and John L. Steen, who make up a uniority of the board of directors. There was some opposition from a small minority. Ellin Root appeared for the company, speaking last evening of the significance of the action taken he sald :

"The trustees of the old trust held stock of different corporations. There was a New-York company known as the National Lead and Oll Company, and also corporations in New Jersey, Missourl and other In the reorganization over in New-Jersey, when the National Lead Company was formed, these old corporations which made up the frust conveyed all their property to the new company. That still left a corporation existing here. It has conveyed away all its property, peld all its debts and gone out of business. This was merely the statutory method of burying it decently. It is dead and buried row. The directors took proceedings for a volum tary discontion of this old company. Messrs Unbloand Inil-v were the only men who nied to any opposition, but they were defeated. A few days ago justice Andraws here in New Y rk also over-ruled a demurrer made by them against the trustees of the old National Lead Trust. I do not know whether or not Similar proceedings will be taken to dissolve the absorbed corporations in other states. That is left to counsel in those States."
